Summary of Legislation: (Amended) This bill specifies that a dog owner may be held civilly liable if the owner's dog attacks a person who is carrying out a duty imposed by state law, federal law, postal regulations, a local ordinance, or under the authority of a public utility. It provides that a dog owner who recklessly, knowingly, or intentionally fails to restrain the owner's dog commits a Class B misdemeanor if the dog attacks a person not on the owner's property. If the dog owner has a prior unrelated conviction under this statute, the person commits and Class A misdemeanor. If the dog bite or attack results in the death of the person attacked, the dog owner commits a Class C felony. It establishes enhanced penalties for repeat offenses, or if the victim suffers serious injury or death. It provides that a dog owner who knowingly, or intentionally fails to restrain the owner's dog between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. commits a Class B misdemeanor if the dog attacks a person on the owner's property and the person is carrying out a duty imposed by state law, federal law, postal regulations, a local ordinance, or under the authority of a public utility. It also establishes enhanced penalties for repeat offenses or if the victim suffers serious injury or death.

Effective Date: July 1, 2001.

Explanation of State Expenditures: (Revised) A Class C felony is punishable by a prison term ranging from two to eight years depending upon mitigating and aggravating circumstances. The average expenditure to house an adult offender was $20,700 in FY 1999. Individual facility expenditures ranged from $14,936 to $37,807. (This does not include the cost of new construction.) If offenders can be housed in existing facilities with no additional staff, the average cost for medical care, food, and clothing is approximately $1,825 annually, or $5 daily, per prisoner. The average length of stay in Department of Correction (DOC) facilities for all Class C felony offenders is approximately two years.

Explanation of State Revenues: (Revised) If additional court cases occur and fines are collected, revenue to both the Common School Fund and the state General Fund would increase. The maximum fine for a Class

C felony is $10,000. The maximum fine for a Class A misdemeanor is $5,000 while the maximum fine for a Class B misdemeanor is $1,000. Criminal fines are deposited in the Common School Fund. If the case is filed in a circuit, superior or county court, 70% of the $120 court fee that is assessed and collected when a guilty verdict is entered would be deposited in the state General Fund. If the case is filed in a city or town court, 55% of the fee would be deposited in the state General Fund.

Explanation of Local Expenditures: (Revised) A Class A misdemeanor is punishable by up to one year in jail while a Class B misdemeanor is punishable by up to 180 days in jail. Local expenditures for jail operations may increase if more defendants are detained in county jails prior to their court hearings. The average daily cost to incarcerate a prisoner in a county jail is approximately $44.

Explanation of Local Revenues: (Revised) If additional court actions occur and a guilty verdict is entered, local governments would receive revenue from the following sources: (1) The county general fund would receive 27% of the $120 court fee that is assessed in a court of record. Cities and towns maintaining a law enforcement agency that prosecutes at least 50% of its ordinance violations in a court of record may receive 3% of court fees. If the case is filed in a city or town court, 20% of the court fee would be deposited in the county general fund and 25% would be deposited in the city or town general fund. (2) A $3 fee would be assessed and, if collected, would be deposited into the county law enforcement continuing education fund. (3) A $2 jury fee is assessed and, if collected, would be deposited into the county user fee fund to supplement the compensation of jury members.
